JOHN A. DENCH WILL FACE A HIGHER COURT IN ARSON CASE

Committed By Magistrate Campbell At St. Catharines for Trial—Statement Embodying Alleged Confession Is Admitted As Evidence—Preliminary Trial Takes Up But One Charge.

At the sitting of the Court at St. Catharines, on Tuesday, Magistrate Campbell admitted the submission of the alleged confession as evidence and committed Dench for trial before a higher court.

The preliminary hearing of John A. Dench, charged with the arson of the Municipal hall, Smithville, on Friday last.

Only one charge was made, that of setting fire to the barn of Charles Adams, hotelkeeper, on the night of May 18.

Chas. Adams testified that Dench had rang his door bell about 1:30 a.m., telling him his barn was on fire, and when he went out to the fire it was well started and Dench was nowhere to be seen, nor was anyone else, but as he came toward Griffin street he met Dench who had been to ring the fire alarm. Adams then went on to ring the alarm.

W. A. Nelson who lives about seventy-five feet from the burned building he said he saw Dench, and when he got to the fire he saw Dench across the street from the fire, he found Dench getting out the chemical engine. He helped Dench drag it out and around the corner, when he noticed a horse tied to a tree, Dench told him he had taken the horse from the barn some time before. There were no apparent causes of fire on the horse or his harness, Dench told Nelson "they" had telephoned him about the fire, but did not say who "they" were.

Albert Burnett, deputy fire Marshall, saw Dench in police cell at St. Catharines and questioned him relative to information Burnett had got in Smithville. He asked him for a statement regarding his movements on the night of the various fires. Dench asked for a few minutes to consider the matter, and later told Burnett he would make a statement if permitted to write it himself.

Burnett, according to his evidence, warned Dench that any statement made might be used for or against him if he were brought to trial. Dench wrote a statement which was produced in court, but Mr. Pepler objected to its admission as the word "for" in the writing had in a previous case which he cited been considered as misleading to the accused.

Police Magistrate Jas. Campbell, before whom the case was brought, thought the citation of sufficient importance to be considered and he served his decision as to whether the alleged confession should be admitted as evidence.

Provincial Constable Hough was called to show that the statement of Dench had been made voluntarily. When recalled for cross examination he stated he had had no previous conversation with Dench nor had he arrested him. Provincial Constable George McKay had gone into the fire cases and first placed Dench in the house under arrest for vagrancy.

P. C. Constable McKay stated that he had worked on the case; after which inquiry around town had gone to Dench's house; told Dench who he was, and questioned him for about an hour. The information he had gained from the placing Dench under arrest was a nominal charge of vagrancy. He was not present when Dench wrote his statement in St. Catharines police station.

The magistrate remanded the case until Tuesday, June 9, at St. Catharines.

TAKES EXCEPTION TO INDEPENDENT STORY

This Paper Did Not State Who Was Responsible For Bonfire That Menaced Main Street Property—Still Stand By Original Story As To Its Location.

In last week's issue of The Independent appeared a short article about the discovery at two o'clock in the morning by Chief of Police Wentworth of a bonfire in the rear of the Stephen Block on Main street. The Independent stated that this fire was in the rear of the Ladies' Departmental Store.

On Saturday of last week the following letter was received by the editor of The Independent:

GrimsbY, Ont., Jun 5, 1925.
Editor, Independent
GrimsbY.

My attention has been called to an article in this week's issue of The Independent as headed "Big Fire might have resulted." I wish to call your attention to the fact that I regard this article as damaging to my reputation. The facts as you have them are false. The bonfire you refer to was not "in the rear of the Ladies' Departmental Store." It puts this firm (just at this particular time) in a false light. No other names are mentioned in the article of parties whose buildings are adjacent to the spot where the bonfire was.

It stands to injure my credit, my business, my personal reputation, and what you will do to straighten this matter out.

(Signed) A. KENT

The Independent in the article did not state who started the bonfire. In fact the article distinctly stated "WHO EVER HAD STARTED IT HAD GONE HOME WITHOUT TAKING THE PROPER PRECAUTIONS TO SEE THAT THE FIRE WAS ALL OUT."

The Independent did not state that the owners of The Ladies' Departmental Store had started this fire, nor did it state that the manager of the Dominion Stores or any of the other occupants of the Stephen block had started the fire. The Independent does not know yet who started the fire and went away and left it, but positively does know from first hand knowledge that the fire was on the customary bonfire spot in the rear of The Ladies' Departmental Store, a few feet to the east of the building.

We know the exact location of the bonfire and what took place when the strong wind fanned it into life, because the editor of this paper was right there on the spot with Chief Wentworth as were two or three other citizens of the town. In fact one Main street property owner was very much riled up over the carelessness that had been exhibited by some person or persons in going away and leaving a fire to burn.

The Independent did not state and does not state now that any person connected with The Ladies' Departmental Store started this bonfire or was in any way connected with the fire, but we did state and still state that the fire was in the rear of that store and in this we are correct. Moreover we still believe that a person is responsible for the going away and leaving of this smouldering fire and it is our duty to see that it is prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

SWAMP DRAIN

The Saltfleet township council has appointed commissioners to take charge of the swamp drain. Arthur Forman, to have charge of the north drain from its western end to its junction with the south drain; Ernest Penfold, to have charge of the south drain to the township of Grimsby line; and George Southward from the Grimsby line to the drain's outlet at Hinch's farm. The commissioners were instructed to clean the drain thoroughly and leave it in satisfactory condition, the work to be done this year.

PORT ERIC RATES

Bridgeport, June 10.—Port Erie's tax rate, it is expected, will be about 15 mills this year, the highest tax rate in Ontario based on actual figures. Actually the tax rate will be about 42 mills on the dollar, had Port Erie an assessment system similar to that of the municipalities. Mr. Ford is not having any success in getting from all others, inasmuch as improved property is exempted 50 per cent.

"DUTCH" SHANTZ ELUCIDATES

Intellectual Giant of Central Garage Gives His Auditors Insight Into Latest Ford Innovation—It's a Knockout.

"Dutch" Shantz, high pressure salesman for the Central Garage, in one of his intellectual discourses, on the curb by the pump, the other evening, relieved himself as follows:

Henry Ford has hired a dancing instructor, and is going to learn the fine points of the shimmy, the caprice and the moon. He wants to preserve the old fashioned dancing. And, fellow citizens, when we come down to brass tacks, dancing is not to be preserved by the time Henry has turned out a few more thousand there won't be anything for us to use our feet for unless we join Shantz's football club this week.

Mr. Ford is not having any success in keeping the old folks going. And the funny part of it is, the older it is the better it goes.

Yes, yes! The old-fashioned quadrille. The first thing you do is to bow, the same as is reaching down to get hold of the other's hand. Great hills can be made for all-mountain right and left.

You approach slowly, in high, snap on the brakes, reverse, and circle much the same as in carrying a bucket of water around to the radiator.

The quadrille was criticized at one time as being a little rough, but it has been so improved in a Ford that it is now a smooth and easy ride.

It is reported that the Ford surplus is $442,000,000.

That will be enough to pay the fiddler. If you don't believe me, ask Brackley, Hark.

CROSSING GATES

In view of the fatal accident occurring at Windsor about two weeks ago when Patrick Ford was instantly killed by a fast passenger train, the Saltfleet council have concluded that it is time adequate protection was provided at the intersection of the C.N.R. main line and Windsor station road. At a meeting of the council last week the crossing was termed the most dangerous in Saltfleet and reference was made to other tragedies at that point, as well as a number of near accidents. The clerk was instructed to send to the Dominion railway board a communication requesting that adequate protection be provided.

TRACKLESS TRAIN ON GRIMSBY MAIN STREET

TOWNSHIP PEOPLE DO SURELY LOVE WATER

Eastern Residents Use Eight Million Gallons In Eighteen Days at a Cost of $1,200—On Same Basis For Year Cost Would Be $25,000.

Residents of North Grimsby, in the eastern division below the mountain, apparently do not like kindly to Ferguson's four by four but would rather consume the Smith-Dipper brand of fluid as served up through the waterworks system.

Water users on the east end system have certainly been making the pump house engineers work overtime the past three weeks for they have used from May 16 to June 3, no less than eight million gallons of water and no doubt they continued to consume in proportion the last three days of last week and the same so far this week.

Eight million gallons of water is a lot of aqua pura to be used in eighteen days. In fact it is nearly double the amount that the town of Grimsby would use in the same length of time. This amount of water at fifteen cents a gallon cost the township $1,200.

If the township people consumed water on the same basis the year round the water bill would run close to $25,000. Pretty expensive water, but a nice revenue for the town water commission.

DENNIS ORDERED TO LEAVE TOWN

In Ten Days on Wife Beating Charge—Pays $10 Fine.

Last Wednesday night Orland Dennis was held before Magistrate Kidd for the second time by Chief Wentworth and Provincial Constable Mackay on a charge of using his wife for a punching bag.

As in the other case, Mrs. Dennis pleaded for her husband, even though admitting that he had used his hands on her. She begged His Worship to let him off as they were going to move out of town. His Worship imposed a fine of $10 and costs on Dennis and gave him forty-eight hours to leave Grimsby or he would be sent down to serve out the suspended sentence. It had been imposed upon him ten days previously.

Latest reports are to the effect that Dennis and his family are now non-residents of the Red Hill district near Hamilton.

Coroner's Jury In Either Automobile Accident So Finds—Add Rider Re Altering of Road at Point of Accident.

The inquest into the death of Louis Ethier, whose home was at 74 George street, Hamilton, but who had been working for J. M. Stewart, Ridge road, North Grimsby, was held at the County Court house in Hamilton, on Thursday night, and the jury found that he "had come to his death through an automobile accident on the Smithville Stone road, and that no blame could be attached to anyone."

They added a rider that the road should be altered to make it safer.

Nine witnesses were called and on completion of their evidence Dr. Roy Perry, the coroner, left the case with the jury without comment.

C. W. Baxter of Grimsby Makes Concrete Recommendation—Export Marketing Machinery Is Necessary—Advises Representatives of All Provinces to Meet—Other Countries Advertise Extensively.

The creation of export marketing machinery, national or provincial, is the concrete recommendation of the Ontario government of C. W. Baxter, the marketing expert, who was commissioned some time ago to investigate the possibilities for the sale of Ontario agricultural produce in the United Kingdom and whose report was made public last week at the parliament buildings by Hon. John S. Martin, minister of agriculture. The general scheme of such export machinery is suggested in the report, which summarizes a survey into overseas marketing possibilities undertaken with a thoroughness and a breadth of inquiry not previously devoted to the interests of the province's producers. The report will be laid before the agricultural inquiry committee of the legislature and discussed there on Friday of this week.

It will be remembered that the special agricultural committee of the legislature investigated the status of the agricultural industry during the last recess of the house, and came to the conclusion that an export marketing commission was necessary if British markets were to be successfully entered and the producers profit accordingly. Because of this recommendation the government named Mr. Baxter to undertake a thorough investigation of marketing conditions in Great Britain, and his findings will now be considered in the light of the recommendation which the inquiry committee previously made.

Mr. Baxter's Conclusions.

The general conclusions to which Mr. Baxter's investigation has led him are stated in the following section of his report: "It will be noticed that by comparison Canada, although making some progress in the marketing of her agricultural produce in Great Britain, is not at the present time provided with means to successfully meet competition from other countries. Competition for United Kingdom trade is generally recognized as being more keen today than at any time heretofore. The favorable position which the products of some countries occupy at the present time is the result of many years' effort along national lines. If Canada is to improve her position—or even hold the position she now occupies—a co-ordination of all interests along national lines is essential."

The recommendation of Mr. Baxter, accordingly, is for a conference of the representatives of all provinces, its object being specified as the discussion of the export marketing situation, with essential reference to the following points:

(a) Adoption of a national brand or trade-mark.

Proportion of Water for Fruit Syrups

Consistency	Sugar	Water
thin	1 cup	2 cups
medium	1 cup	1 cup
thick	1 cup	1/2 cup

Syrups to Use With Different Fruits

(a) Thin syrup for soft fruits—strawberries, raspberries, peaches, apricots.

(b) Use a thin syrup for hard fruits—apples, pears.

(c) Use a medium or thick syrup for sour fruits—currants, gooseberries, cranberries.

How to Extract and Can Fruit Juices

Crush the fruit to extract the juice. As an aid the fruit may be heated in a double boiler. Strain the juice through a jelly bag. Bring the juice to the boiling point. Pour the juice in hot sterilized jars and seal. Place a stopper of cotton in top of bottle. Filled with the hot juice, (not boiling) they are placed in water up to the neck and held for 40 minutes at a temperature of 165 degrees F. A fitted cork is pressed into the bottle over the cotton.

Uses of Canned Fruit Juice.

Unsweetened may be used for jelly. The juices are good for sherbets, ices, fruit sauces, gelatin desserts.

How Berries May be Kept from Shrinking.

(a) Wash berries. Sprinkle with sugar and allow them to stand 24 hours in a cool place. Pack in jars and pour over them a hot syrup made from the juice.

(b) Hull and wash strawberries. Simmer for 15 minutes in a syrup of one cup of sugar and two tablespoons of water to a quart of berries. Allow berries to stand in syrup over night. Pack fruit in hot jars. Cover with the hot syrup. Process 20 minutes in the water bath. Seal.

An easy way to put on snap-fasteners is to sew on the under part first, then rub chalk dust will show on the goods on top of each, lay the goods on and press gently. The chalk mark will show just where each top part is to be sewed on.

FOR TREATING SUNBURN

Tender skin, unaccustomed to the burning rays of the sun, should not be exposed to the hot sun.

If it is, the result often is sunburn and much discomfort. A layer of suitable cream is a good protection. This should be spread on thickly and allowed to sink into the skin.

Then enough should be taken off, if one is particularly about his or her appearance, to keep the face from appearing too greasy. On coming into the house the face should be washed of the cream with warm water and a pinch of bicarbonate of soda.

Then moisten the face with a lotion made of: Tincture of arnica, four ounces; glycerine, eight ounces, and rose water, four ounces.

If, in spite of the precautions, the face becomes red, sensitive and swollen, the first thing to do is to soothe it with compresses of sterilized gauze, dipped in solution of equal parts of witch hazel and hydrate of chloral.

Keep these on, constantly moistening them as often as possible.

A HUNDRED YEARS OF COLLARS

Mrs. Hannah Montague, of Troy, New York, Made the First Detachable Collar a Century Ago—Became Tired of Washing Mr. Montague's Shirts.

Back in Queen Elizabeth's time men used to wear starched lace ruffs around their necks as large as cart-wheels. Styles gradually became more sensible, but even when men began to wear collars they did not conceive of shirt and collar being separate articles of apparel. The detachable collar came into the world just one hundred years ago in Troy, N.Y., when a young woman, Mrs. Hannah Lord Montague, desperately weary of washing so many shirts, was, for a fastidious husband, rebelled one Monday, seized a pair of shears, and removed a soiled collar from a comparatively clean neckband. Thus, the first detachable collar in its appearance.

By that act, remarks the New York Times, Mrs. Montague started something. The scene of her early insurgency and ingenuity now produces annually detachable collars of the value of more than $40,000,000. In the score of factories that make them the capital outlay is $400,000, and this tremendous industry employs 15,000 operatives, 85 per cent of them women. Troy is planning a celebration in 1927, the centenary of the collar industry, and a new million dollar hotel in the city is to be named after her.

Too Much Washing.

In 1817 Hannah Lord married Orlando Montague, a maker of women's shoes, a man of imposing stature, neat in habit and proud of his fine linen. Mrs. Montague was also proud of his fine linen, but in those days a great deal of laundry work was done in the home, and Mrs. Montague was confronted with the task of washing mountains of her husband's fine shirts.

During those busy Mondays—and possibly Tuesdays and Wednesdays, too—Orlando's hard-working spouse often pondered over the circumstances which made it necessary to launder a whole shirt because there was a shirt rim of Troy coal-dust on the neckband. As she wrote to her family in later years: "It seemed but the inspiration of the moment" to seize a pair of scissors, snip off the fold-over collar, then attach a strip of white tape at either end, sew up the salvages of both collar and neckband and present the final result for Mr. Montague's critical inspection.

Mrs. Montague displayed her labor-saving device to a few neighbors and the news spread like wild-fire. Collars which could be washed and ironed separately and quickly, while a shirt went on forever, staggered Troy housewives with visions of leisure wrung from tubs.

Commercial Possibilities.
Quite appropriately, a gentleman of the cloth, the Rev. Ebenezer Brown, a retired Methodist minister and proprietor of a notepaper store, studied the commercial possibilities of the new separate collar. Within a year he and his family became the real winners of the collar-manufacturing business. His wife and daughter fabricated the first collar to be sold as a distinct piece of haberdashery; and the Rev. Mr. Brown peddled them in a basket from house to house.

In 1822 Troy's collar factory was established. His establishment many improvements were brought into being—spright collars, buttonholes and the accompanying buttons and studs. Presently the collar had developed into an article of many forms, requiring more than fifty operations in its manufacture. The industry continued to center in Troy because efficient knowledge of various processes in collar-making were handed down from mother to daughter for generations.

FASHIONS OF TODAY

Women will never go back to the old, harassing style of clothing. What has been arrived at in fashions today is, on the whole, dignified, healthful and sensible.

The present-day fashion of jumpers is a good one. They provide extra warmth when it is required, and are both easy to make and comfortable to wear; indeed, they are far to answer the objections that might be made against the loose open necks and the very short sleeves so much in vogue at present.

As a matter of fact the present fashion in the matter of frocks is the prettiest and healthiest that has been seen since the days of classic drapery.

THE SEASON'S HARMONY

Owing to the far-reaching influence of the ensemble no hat is considered smart this season unless it contains a color which brings it into identity with the dress or coat. No patchy color effects are permitted. Different colored borders, a woven or sewn on a dress, are the only possible excuse for a different colored hat, and even then it must reproduce one of the shades of the border. The trimming should not detract from the line, which is as important in millinery as it is in dress.

DO YOU MAKE A GOOD OMELET

For a fluffy omelet separate the yolks and whites carefully and beat them well. To the yolks add as many tablespoons of milk as you have eggs, and enough salt for seasoning, and mix well. Then fold in the fluffy whites, until they are well blended, but be careful not to stir roughly and so release the air which you have taken pains to beat in to the whites. Have a hot frying pan, an iron skillet if possible heated over the bottom covered with butter, melted, but not browned. If the butter gets too hot, it may cause the omelet to burn and the flavor will be ruined. Also choose a pan of such size that the mixture covers it about one inch deep at the beginning. Pour in the egg mixture and cook the omelet at low, even heat. This is one of the secrets of a perfect omelet. The egg has a chance to expand and raise the bottom before the proteins of the egg and milk set. If a gas or an oil burner of small size is being used, move the pan about so that the omelet will cook around the edge at the same rate it does in the centre. When the omelet has browned on the bottom, put it under a low flame in the broiling oven, or on the shelf of a gas or oil burner, for a few minutes until the top sets. Or if preferred, cover the pan during the whole cooking process, and so cook the top of the omelet. When the omelet is through, turn it over with a spatula or broad knife, and turn, not lift, it onto a hot platter, pour over it melted butter and serve at once.

Flat omelets are a little easier and quicker to make because the yolks and whites are beaten together, not separated. Milk is added in the same proportion, one tablespoon to each egg. Use a large heavy pan, with melted butter, again being careful not to have it too hot and to cook the mixture slowly and evenly on both top and bottom. When it is a golden brown, roll it in the pan, and turn it out on to a hot platter.

Remember this above all else in making omelets, whether fluffy or flat—keep the temperature moderate and even; cook them thoroughly and serve them piping hot.

Hemming Your Skirt

Do not hem your dress until the last thing and then be sure it hangs evenly. If you have used a pattern which allows for a hem on a straight line your work is quite easy. A curved hem is harder to make. On a wool dress quite a wide hem, say four inches, looks well. Some women prefer three; it really is a matter of choice and sometimes of necessity because of shortage of material. Measure very carefully and put pins at close intervals before hemming. If the material is at all heavy it do not turn in the edge of the hem. It usually lies flatter to stitch a row of binding tape along the raw edge and sew the tape in turn, to the skirt. You should be very careful to make your hem exactly even all around, and if you stitch it with machine, do so on the right side, as it is apt to look better. Personally, I prefer a hem done by hand in blind stitch if you can do it well, with small, even stitches. Whatever way you do it remember it can't be alighted you can take time enough so that it will look well.

M. L. and Mrs. VanDyke; George and Mrs. Peters and Miss Schultz of Buffalo, N. Y., were weekend visitors with Mrs. J. W. VanDyke, 12 Adelaide street.

Commencing Sunday next June 14, the Sunday school in connection with St. Andrews church will hold their service in the morning at 9:45 until further notice.

The last I.O.O.F. literary meeting of the season will be held at 2:45 sharp, Friday, June 12, at 11 o'clock in the study of the life and work of Robert Louis Stevenson will be taken by Miss Metcalfe and Miss Jessie Palmer, with appropriate readings and music.

The Davies farm on the lower road, North Grimsby, has been sold by W. W. Kidd to a man from Kitchener, R. H. Kidd and family who have been occupying the lake front cottage on the farm have removed to the fine large home on the A. G. Pettit farm, Main street west.

A large crowd greeted the Knickerbocker Orchestra, from Richmond, Va., at the Casino on Saturday night last and were well repaid for having the heat waves to dance to their music. This band proved its claim to being the best organization of its kind that has ever come out of the south.

There has been a great splashing of paint around the Grimsby garage on Main street east the past week. The front and east end of the building has been painted and decorated in bright colors and two large and gaudy signs have been erected advertising the garage and Red Indian motor oils.

Under the new provincial law in Ontario three days must elapse between the issue of a marriage license and the wedding. Perhaps this is all right, but it certainly gives the reluctant bridegroom lots of time in which to change his mind and three days start if he tries to escape.

Apliaris in local townships have recently been undergoing examination by provincial inspectors who are charged with enforcement of regulations regarding "fool brood" in bees. Some colonies have been destroyed and in a few cases the equipment has also been burned. The department is making an earnest attempt to stamp out this disease.

A large number of the members of the Grimsby Fire Department resplendent in their natty new uniforms motored to Dunnville on Sunday morning to take part in the fireman's decoration day services. A large number of fire companies from towns in the counties of Lincoln, Welland, Haldimand and Wentworth took part in the proceedings.

C. E. Atkins of Toronto, with a large staff has been busy this week getting the A. F. Hawke stock in shape for the big sale which starts on Saturday. As the goods are gone over and straightened out, it is astonishing to find so much in practically perfect condition, and the prices, according to the big advt. in this paper, are such that the stock should move out in a very few days.

Arling out of the accident, on the Smithville Stone road on Tuesday, May 26, when an auto in which Cook was riding ran off the end of a culvert. Thomas Cook on Tuesday commenced two separate court actions, one against the township of South Grimsby and the other against the county of Lincoln, claiming $5000 against each for injuries due to the alleged negligence of the defendants. Bell, Pringle & Yates acted the writ.

The driver of the apt. mobile carrying license number 5-642, is due to land up in Magistrate Kidd's court if he does not desist in his foolish and reckless driving on the streets of Grimsby, especially Depot street. Three or four times the past ten days this speed maniac has narrowly averted hitting pedestrians on Depot street and several complaints have been laid with Chief Wentworth. The chief is on the lookout and intends to make an example of this bird.

GRIMSBY 12—FRUITLAND 5

A very good game of softball was played last evening on the school grounds between Grimsby and Fruitland, the former winning by 13-5. Despite the one-sided score, the two teams played a very good exhibition of the summer pastime. Wilson pitched for Grimsby.

The score by innings was as follows: Grimsby 11 120 253—13 Fruitland 101 000 021—5

OPTOMETRY

It's value to the public.

By VERNON LUCK, D.O.
Grimsby, Ontario

The economic loss to the nation by reason of visual defects cannot be estimated, but it must be enormous, and the subject deserves more consideration than has been given it.

Physical fitness is impossible with an appreciable error of vision. Efficiency is tremendously curtailed in those whose sight is below par. And we repeat, in millions of cases these defects are caused by individuals who are not aware of their deficiency.

That indicates the necessity for Optometrists acquainting the public with the full scope of their profession and the advisability of having persons who have never done so, presenting themselves to the Optometrist for a consideration of their cases.

SMOKING ANCIENT ART

It is said that smoking long antedates the British discovery of the art, or habit, among the American Indians. It is now believed that smoking was introduced into America by the Chinese, at some remote time. It is certain that the East Indians have been smoking for some two thousand years. Long before tobacco was discovered smoking had become a fine art. Babylon doubtless had many smokers who were as particular about their pipes and brands as any one today. They smoked different woods and herbs and paid special attention to blending them to get the desired flavor. A piece of wood was burned to a charcoal, and smoked in an ornamental pipe. When the charcoal was red hot a powder was dropped on it and the resulting smoke was inhaled. They used the gum from trees, bark and many aromatic woods and smoked various kinds of flowers. Soldiers have been smokers from remote antiquity. The Roman military camps still yield pipes. The ruins of Roman cities, notably Pompeii, show that smoking must have been common.

ORIGIN OF LITTLE JACK HORNER

"Little Jack Horner" the jingle that has delighted so many millions of infant minds is said to have been a purely fictitious character. It has been suggested that it arose out of a transaction which took place in the reign of Henry VIII, at the time of the dissolution of monasteries. A person of the name of John Horner obtained a ripe "plum" in the shape of an estate, belonging to one of the religious establishments mentioned in Somersetshire. His good luck gave rise to much public comment, which in turn originated the rhyme so well known to us from childhood. Mr. Reginald Bannerman's wife is a piece of the wife of Sir John Horner, of Mel's Park, the property referred to. The investigator quite by accident came across the subjoined couplet which evidently has a bearing upon the same subject. Horner, Pamel, Portman, Thynne. When the monks stepped out you stepped in.

VOTE YEA AND NAY ON ONE QUESTION

Some of Town Aldermen See Question from Two Angles and Vote That Way — What Difference in Foreclosing a Mortgage on June 10 Or June 3.

(By Mills)

At a special meeting of the town council on Tuesday night, June 2, Duhamel and Mosley made and seconded a motion to the effect that the town solicitor foreclose the mortgage on the Lincoln Rubber Products factory at once. Reeve Mennell voted with them but the other four members of the council voted against the motion.

Another motion was put to the effect that this company be given until the next regular meeting of the council on June 10, and if $1,000 be not paid over the mortgage be foreclosed "the next day".

This gives the company seven clear days to raise the money and it gives the town a chance to get $1,000 by waiting one small week.

The point is this: Those who voted for the motion to foreclose immediately, voted against the motion to foreclose a week later.

The question is why? If the action of foreclosing would be good on June 3, it would be not materially different to take that action one week later—and by waiting that week the town stood a chance to be $1,000 better off.

Was it because the first motion did not meet with unanimous approval that these three voted against the second motion? If it was not "peevish" why was it?

Citizens would be interested in learning.

THOROLD SCHOOL GIRLS DRILL CORPS

Musical Comedy "Baby Mine" Given in Moore's Theatre On Friday Night For Benefit of Fire Department.

The Thorold School Girls' Drill Corps, under the auspices of the Grimsby Fire department, gave an evening of splendid entertainment in Moore's theatre on Friday night, June 5, to a well filled house.

The entertainment was thoroughly enjoyed and from a theatrical and artistic standpoint the performance for amateurs, was superb. Of the same entertainment given in the home town a couple of weeks previously the Thorold Post gives an account which fits the case very well and which we reprint as applicable here:

"The Patricia theatre was packed last evening by an interested audience, come to see the girls drill corps again in public appearance, and to enjoy the music and other specialties provided for the lengthy menu.

"The playlet, or comedy, was 'Baby Mine.' It ran through the evening in several acts, and was full of ludicrous situations and scenes from start to finish. Time will not permit an extended notice of the play, only that the characters were represented by Fred Martin, Shirley Tefft, Harry Lawson, Margaret Cross, Isabel Dobble, Mrs. Martin, Miss Sulman, and Billie Eddie. Their work was fully equal to if not better than the average work of professionals in the same line of stage work, which speaks well not only for their own appreciation of their parts, but for the good work in rehearsal done by their instructors, Mr. Whitaker and Mr. Fendell. There was scarcely a hitch from beginning to end.

"The musical work was also superior, the girls having acquired a stage quality of expression that made it easy to hear from the most distant point. The drills conducted by Mr. Martin, the song specialties by different members, and the costumes, were all notably good. Mrs. Norton presided at the piano, and Philip's orchestra filled the evening.

"On the whole, it would be hard to improve on the work of the evening, and it goes without saying that the girls will be again crowded tonight at the second appearance. Those who attend will not be disappointed.

"The Thorold girls drill corps again

FOUGHT FOR U.S.A. BUT KICKED OUT

Grimsby Man After Gaining Citizenship By Fighting for Yanks in France Has Papers Revoked.

People often wonder why some of their neighbors, who have knowledge of the United States, are so bitter against the average citizen of that benighted country. But every day we read of some display of ignorance of officials over there, and pay little attention because they do not directly affect. Here is a case a little nearer home: read it; and tell why it happened.

Detroit, June 8.—Harvey Schaeffer, 37 years old, resident of Grimsby, Ont., was deprived of his American citizenship in United States Court here today in spite of the fact that he served with the American Expeditionary Force overseas, and pleaded his intention of returning to Detroit.

An Assistant United States District Attorney told Judge Simons the State Department had asked him to petition for a revocation of Schaeffer's naturalization papers on the grounds he had taken up permanent residence in Canada.

Schaeffer was a British subject, living in Chicago when he enlisted with the army in 1917 on this country's entry into the war.

POORER, WISER THEY COME BACK

Many Farmers Returning from the United States — Greater Opportunities They Heard of Were Mythical.

Like the prodigal son, many Canadians who left their country to seek what they hoped would be better prospects in other lands, are returning home. They have learned that the opportunities in Canada are equal and in many cases better than in distant fields.

The Canadian Government Immigration Officer at Detroit gives the details of 25 Canadian families who have returned to take up farms in Canada within the past few weeks, most of them having farmed in different parts of Canada before they said out and went to the United States, where they thought they could do better. The hopeful prospects they expected, there did not materialize, and, realizing that Canada, after all, is the best country for them, they are returning to their homeland again.

The Canadian Government Immigration Officer at Fargo, N. D., also reports a number of Canadian families returning recently, among whom is C. P. Koepnick of Fargo, N. D. Mr. Koepnick went to the MacLeod district of Alberta in 1912, where he prospered as a farmer for eight years. In 1921 he returned to his old home in North Dakota. He has made arrangements to return to Alberta for the reason that he has realized that farming conditions are much better there than in his old home.

From other officers of the Department of Immigration and Colonization comes further evidence of the homeward movement of new farm settlers from the United States. One of the most interesting cases that has come under the attention of the officers of the Canadian Department of Immigration and Colonization recently is that of John B. Hiebert, who, with his wife and thirteen children left with a number of other Menominee families to settle in Mexico nearly three years ago. Both the parents and the thirteen children were born in Canada. In 1922 John Hiebert, his wife and five children, returned to his farm of 350 acres at Hebert, Sask., and left for Mexico. He located at Cuernavaca, Mexico. There he found farming a difficult proposition owing to indifferent soil, lack of water, poor markets and other causes. A few weeks ago Mr. Hiebert and his family returned to Canada with very little left of the three thousand dollars in cash they took with them. They are going back to Hebert, Sask., where they intend to take up land again and remain. The Hiebert family is one of 35 Menominee families that have returned to Canada from Mexico this year.

EXCUSES

Excuses are easier to make than preparations, but what are they worth—to you or the other fellow?

The old rule, "Make sure you are right—then go ahead," is a good one to follow. And then take what comes without any alibis or excuses.

No one can afford to take up action until it has been thoroughly thought out—if more people followed this plan there would be fewer excuses floating around the world.

BACK BROKEN IN BAD AUTO SMASH

Gustav Leister of Buffalo Victim of Bad Accident on Cape Horn Curve — In Hamilton Hospital.

An accident involving seven people four of whom miraculously escaped, while two women received serious head injuries and one man had his back broken, occurred about 3 o'clock Sunday morning at "Cape Horn" about three miles east of Beamsville, on the Queenston highway.

George Leister of Buffalo, was the owner and driver of the car in which were his brother, twenty-two years old, three sisters and two nieces, and when the car ran off the highway on the curve it turned over twice, while the whole superstructure from the seats up was torn away. Geo. Leister, one sister and the two children were thrown practically clear, and in his frenzy to release the three under the car Leister lifted the side of the seven passenger Buick touring along while his sister dragged the unconscious forms from beneath.

By the time this had taken place another car came along and Dr. C. W. Elmore of Beamsville was called. He found Gustav Leister had his back badly broken and the two sisters to have received serious head injuries.

The two women were brought to Beamsville where they remained unconscious for several hours.

After dressing the other injured the doctor rushed the young man to Hamilton General hospital.

The party were motoring from Buffalo to Toronto where Miss May Leister one of the injured women resides on St. Clair avenue. The other sister, Mrs. Muller, who was injured was the mother of the two little girls and resides at 751 Broadway, Buffalo.

TAKING VOTE ON CHURCH STEPS

Non-Concurrence Claim Interim Moderator Refused Them Key To St. Ann's Church—Notice Said Voting Illegal.

(Hamilton Herald)

In accordance with a resolution passed at a meeting of non-concurrence held last Tuesday afternoon at the home of Frank Mingle, farmer of St. Ann's members in favor of voting met at the church, but owing to the refusal of Rev. Mr. Gandler, Smithville, who is interim moderator, to give the key of the church, a table was placed on the steps and voting was carried on from 7 to 8 o'clock. About half of the membership were present.

J. R. Goring, elder, of Smithville, acted as returning officer, and A. W. Teeter poll clerk.

The non-concurrence maintain that Mr. Gandler's intentions were to take St. Ann's automatically into union. They state that when they asked for a vote Mr. Gandler said that was absolutely impossible—they had no minister or office bearer, consequently they could not vote.

The advisory committee of the continuing Hamilton presbytery insisted that they ought to get an opportunity of expressing themselves by ballot if they desired to do so. Voting continued on Sunday at 3 o'clock and will open on Tuesday and Wednesday at 7 o'clock each evening to all eligible to record their vote.

A notice tacked on the door of the church stating that the voting was illegal created some amusement.

B.C. STRAWBERRIES ARE ON MARKET

(Farm & Home, Vancouver, B. C., June 4.)

"Strawberries are coming in, though but slowly so far," said President H. P. Simpson of the Berry Growers' Union of B. C. to Farm and Home yesterday. "They are going out to local dealers at $3.00 to $3.50 per crate through the Canadian Fruit Distributors, the new co-operative brokerage house. The price for the Prairie markets is today $4.00 per crate f.o.b. Vancouver."

Honey and the Mission districts are the main sources of supply at present, and the crop is short.

Gooseberries started very well, indeed, on the market at $3.00 per crate to the trade. That figure was rapidly forced down by increasing volume of supplies to $2.00 and today the f.o.b. price for gooseberries shipped through the union to Prairie points is $1.75.

Raspberries are coming along well; the recent rains benefited them as well as the strawberries. The rasp crop will be at least 10 days earlier than usual if climatic conditions remain favorable.

Loganberries are doing well now, but except for the Chilliwack district, the crop is not a good one. It, of course, is also earlier than usual.

The berry season in the Kootenay is much earlier than the average and shipments are going out from Weyburn (Creston) to Crow's Nest line points and Lethbridge.

On the south side of the Fraser River locals are managing assembling and shipping plants for berries at Chilliwack, Port Kells and Abbotsford under the auspices of the union. Other points filling similar duties are at Mission, Whonnock, Honey and Richmond, the last named on Lulu Island.

COFFEE ARONA OFFENDED

The English coffee houses seems to have had its origin in Oxford, so far as can be discovered. In the year 1650 a Jew, opened a "Coffee House" at the Angel, in the Parish of Saint Peter in East Oxon, and there it was by some who delighted in novelties drank. In 1654 Cirques Johnson, a Jew and a Jacobite, sold coffee in Oxon. In 1655 Arthur Tillyard, an apothecary, sold it publicly in his house against "All Souls College."

In "A New View of London," published in 1708, one James Fair, a barber, who kept the house (now called the "Italian House") in 1697, was summoned to appear before the court of St. Dunstan's in the West, for making and selling a sort of liquor called coffee, to the great abhorrence and prejudice of the neighborhood.

Just Like City Water Service

No matter where you live, you can now have running water under pressure in your home.

Modern plumbing, including bathroom with hot and cold water, lavatory, shower, toilet, and faucets in many convenient places—think what this means to the suburban or farm home.

With the present standards of living these conveniences are a necessity. They make for comfort, health, sanitation and labor-saving. They were formerly to be had only in the city, but now, will give you all the advantages of city water service. Duro Systems are built in many sizes and styles. They meet the needs of a bungalow or a country club. They are driven either by electric motor or gasoline engine.

Empire Duro Water Systems

A Duro system is worth all it costs for fire protection alone. It is easily installed in old or new homes—taking water from deep or shallow well, cistern or spring.

COMEDY (GAME) AT BEAMSVILLE

Geese Exhibition of Baseball Runs the Gamut From Ridiculous to Sublime—Practice Makes Perfect.

The Grimsby Beamsville attempt at synchronizing the elements of a baseball team is laudable and is fairly effective, but the stunts of these elements are too erratic to make a good machine. Apparently the trouble is the lack of oil—grease—the kind that comes out of a field called practice.

Primrose "Bud" Reid piles up four errors. Then in Port Colborne's seventh effort he makes a one-hand catch of a sizzling line drive putting the first man out; fumbles the ball that the next man hits; and then by snappy work makes the assist in a double, retiring the side.

Splendid baseball in spots; ball that he is capable of playing; but offsets it by—lack of practice.
Ches Fisher on second starts off his fielding in the second by a nice catch. In the second after Strong had walked, Clark threw to Fisher to stop a steal; Fisher and McVicar got Strong between them. Fisher did not get another chance until the fifth, when he fumbled and let Devore to first. Then O'Reilly hits to Reid; Fisher gets Devore at second and doubles O'Reilly at first. Then he adds two more in the sixth to the comedy column.

And the pitchers! Oh! Heavenly Kitty! Three tried boys, who have proven in the past that they could do something, walk one after another, onto the mound and—swat, swat, swat. Only three men walked, but there was nary a strike out. Three 3-batters, six doubles and nine singles.

Practice? Let George do it.
The box score does not half tell it,
but here it is!

GOLF SWINGS

By the brothers, Frank Thompson, present Canadian Amateur champion, and W. J. Thompson, Ontario Amateur champion and last year's champion of Canada. They are native-born and resident Canadians, members of a family of five famous golfing brothers.

NO. 7.

Now suppose one were to accept the proposition that it were possible to build a swing by stages or piecemeal as is so often done; whom would he select as a model? Would he accept Vardon, Hurd or Taylor of the old school, or perhaps some one of the new school, Mitchell Hagen, or Sar-azen? Not any two of these players swing the club in the same way.
When I say this I do not mean there are minor differences but differences that are typical. One could not fancy swings of leading players more different than those of Vardon, Taylor and Hurd. The latter has a distinct swing in his swing with a comparatively flat body (dist with little else which, of course, makes his swing also flat. Vardon's swing has a noticeable bend at the waist among other features which makes his swing upright going up but flat coming down. All these players have other features connected with their swings but the points mentioned stamp each swing as a type.

The other players mentioned all swing differently. Some have more twist than others and some more bend at the waist or dip, Mitchell perhaps, has the most perfect swing of any of the leading pros, not excluding Duncan. Mitchell's swing is a blend, and as someone has so aptly said, in things Scotch a blend seems to give the best results.

In the midst of all the diversity of swing, whom should one follow?
Well, if our observations are correct,
the answer should be apparent to all,
namely that one should swing the club in his own way. Does this mean that there are no fundamental principles underlying the swinging of a golf club, and that each one is to be left to his own whims and caprices as the final arbiter? Not at all. There are some fundamentals but these do not consist of those things which we ordinarily consider fundamentals in golf.
Heretofore we have wont to look upon a fixed head, a straight left arm, right elbow close to the side, locked hips, a straight left leg at impact, and a number of other features as essentials, when as a matter of actual practice,
not one of these points are entirely

REPORT ON SALE OF ONTARIO PRODUCE IN MOTHERLAND

(b) Establishment of national export grades, grade designations and regulations.

(c) Providing a federal inspection service which may issue export grading certificates, with power to refuse the granting of certificates unless the product is in accordance with adopted standards.

(d) A national advertising program covering a number of years, the funds for which may be provided by a small per-package and per-car case charge, no advertising to be undertaken until the fund shall have reached $300,000.

(e) As volume of some products, especially bacon and butter, is essential to success, a production program covering a period of not less than ten years with provisions for the creation of a fund which may be drawn upon during periods of adjustment made necessary by reason of over-production or reduced purchasing power.

(f) Funds for the purpose of making adjustments or for stabilizing of production to be provided jointly by producers, provincial and federal governments, and exporters, in proportion to the tonnage exported.

"A national effort along these lines," Mr. Baxter comments, "should obtain for our province the best results.
If, however, a national scheme is deemed impracticable, the adoption of a similar program for Ontario should result in a substantial improvement in our position in the markets of the United Kingdom and in better financial returns to our producers. In either case, organization is the keynote to success—organization in producing areas linked up with a central marketing bureau in the United Kingdom."

In opening his report, Mr. Baxter explains the methods which underlay his investigation. The markets of the United Kingdom, it is stated, were studied in the light of the countries from which supplies were received and of the marketing methods which such countries employed, in the light of the relative position of Canada to other countries in the production of specific produce, in the light of consumer, retailer, wholesaler and other interested sentiment towards Canadian goods, and in the light of transportation costs. In connection with all these aspects of the marketing problem, Ontario's position was especially considered.

The success with which individual Ontario products are meeting in the United Kingdom, markets, was also inquired into, and is reported upon by Mr. Baxter. Apples are declared to be generally well received, and exports in this country are declared to be permitted in the shipping of peaches are also declared to have given promise for the future. In the latter connection, however, it is recommended that no further commercial shipments of peaches be undertaken until investigation has been made to determine the lowest temperature at which they can be landed in the Old Country. Modest, inexpensive experiments upon the latter points are urged for the present season.
